Political.

The following amusing satire on political office seekers appears in the Reese River Reveille:

AUSTIN, April 4th, 1867.

EDITORS REVEILLE: Will you permit me through the columns of your valuable journal to announce myself to the poll-tax payers of Austin as an independent candidate for the office of Mayor, subject to the nomination of any convention or conventions that possess wisdom enough to discern my merits and indorse me for that position? I am aware it is customary for candidates announcing themselves for office to accompany their card with a sufficient quantity of circulating medium, in the shape of coin or Uncle Sam's due bills, to make glad the heart of the printer; but I paid my last greenback to Red Wheeler for a copy of Ferguson's Inaugaral, having received a telegram per Atlantic cable from Louis Napoleon, desiring me to procure one at whatever cost, and forward it to Paris in time for the Grand Exposition. Therefore I am constrained to omit the little act of courtesy due from the candidate to the publisher, which omission I am sure you will excuse, and not only insert my card of announcement, but support me through your editorial columns.

In regard to my political views, I have always been a staunch Union man of secession proclivities. I believe the differences between Congress and the President to be an abolition lie. I am in favor of extending the elective franchise not only to negroes and Chinamen, but am even willing that the members of the State Legislature should vote seven years after the expiration of their term of office, providing any of their companions in the Penitentiary—not ex-members—will certify to their good moral character and behavior during their term of incarceration. I am, moreover, in favor of making the colored race exclusively eligible to the Legislature, for the reason that our experiments with white men in that capacity have proven most miserable failures; so let's give the nigs a chance.

In regard to our local affairs: I am in favor of our local affairs being conducted upon the most economical basis. If elected, I shall abolish the Committee on Streets, make all contracts, and attend to the expenditure of the money myself. I am opposed to any crossing being laid less than eight inches below the grade of the street, as it will interfere seriously with the amusement of a large and highly respectable class of persons who are in the habit of watching the pedal extremeties of the fair daughters of Austin, as they pick their way daintily through the mud. I am, however, in favor of widening the upper grade. It is a duty we owe to the dead, that being the only thoroughfare to the grave-yard.

Having given my views upon leading political and local points, I will now briefly speak of myself. I am a descendant of a most noble, illustrious and patriotic family. My great-grandfather's first cousin by marriage was Doge of Mud Springs in the winter of '49 and spring of '50, and presided at the ceremony of wedding the Placerville Railroad to the Pyramids of Egypt. My grandmother upon my aunt's side was married to an old-line Whig of the Campbellite persuasion, who came over in the Mayflower, and afterwards kept a peanut stand on Plymouth rock. My eldest brother died fighting bravely for liberty during the rebellion at San Quentin about four years ago, when Governor Chellis was taken prisoner of war, escorted to the borders of his domain, and there magnanimously released on parole. Mrs. Winslow's soothing syrup is my aunt, and see by the papers that Anna Dickingson lately passed through the town where my aged and revered parents once resided. So much for my pedigree—now for myself.

It is highly essential that the office of Mayor should be filled by a gentleman of sterling business acquirements, combined with the most unswerving honesty. Such I claim to be. I devote myself to the developement of the mineral interests of this city, and have thus far been very successful. I employ myself every night collecting specimens of chloride ore from the different dump-piles on Lander Hill. I said every night. Excuse me. I do not work upon the Sabbath. Upon that holy day I am engaged as "look out" for a keno game at a respectable bit saloon in Upper Austin. I came to California at an early date. I have experienced many vicissitudes, and many reverses; but I can look the world in the face, and proudly defy any man to prove that I have ever been convicted of any crime more serious than that of waylaying small children as they pass my cabin on their way to school with their dinner buckets on their hands! Who among my opponents can present a more unblemished record than that?

In regard to those of my fellow citizens who would like to support me, but have not the means to procure the requisite license to vote, I will state that I have partly made arrangements with the Assessor for two hundred tax receipts. I am to give him a mortgage on a mill-site in Amador as security for his pay. So any such can procure their receipts by calling on me at the northwest corner of the hay yard below Bradford's Hall, at any time before sundown.

Hoping my fellow citizens will encourage my laudable aspirations, I subscribe myself

Their obedient servant to command,
until after election,
ALUM A. GOUELUM.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT.—The Stockton Independent of April 2d says:

About 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, while Magner, proprietor of the El Dorado livery stable was driving a young horse harnessed to a light buggy, along Weber avenue, he was suddenly siezed with a dizzy faintness, so that he could not manage the animal. The horse turned at furious speed into Hunter and thence into Main, and near the corner of the latter and El Dorado street the driver was thrown out of the vehicle, striking against an awning post and cutting his left temple severely. He was carried into the office of Dr. Langdon, where his wounds were dressed. Later in the evening, Magner was carried to his dwelling, suffering considerable pain in his back. His injuries, although painful, are not considered dangerous. The horse, after the driver was thrown out, soon left the buggy, and ran along El Dorado street to Levee street, and thence down to Centre street in the direction of Mormon slough.

CONVENIENCES OF A HOUSE.—A gentleman who had lately built a house in Fifth Avenue, New York, was showing it to a friend, and with great glee was pointing out all its various accommodations.

"My dear sir," interrupted the other, "have you made the staircase wide enough to bring down your coffin?"

From Arizona.

The following letter appears in the Arizona Miner, of February 24th:

Again is our town thrown into excitement by the murder of one of our fellow townsmen and brother Pioneers. On Friday morning last, as the workmen on the Toll Road at Union Pass, sixteen miles from here, were going to work, they discovered the tracks of an Indian, who had evidently but just crossed the road. Mr. Thomas McCall, who was in charge of the work, alone, and with nothing but a pistol, started over the hills to follow the Indian, instructing the party to head off the Indian if he succeeded in turning him that way.

He was gone some time, and the party started out to look for him, thinking something had befallen him, or he would have returned. On traveling about two miles they came upon his body, pierced with arrows and stripped of clothing. It would seem that the Indians had purposely made the tracks across the road to draw their enemies into ambush, as there was evidence of a large party of them. The night before, they had made a raid into San Francisco District and killed two mules, and captured one horse, which they had with them, and which was found dead near McCall's body, it having been shot probably by McCall in his defense.

Mr. McCall was one of the oldest settlers here, having come here in the spring of 1861; was an honest, upright and fearless man, universally esteemed by all who knew him, and his untimely fate is to be deeply mourned. The arrows prove the Indians to have been Pah-Utes. These Pah-Utes must be exterminated, and to do that the war must be carried to their homes. Their headquarters are on the Muddy. They come down to Callville and El Dorado Canyon, and are there "good Indians,"—dash across the river, massacre a few of our citizens, then back with their blood and booty, to be "good Indians" again.

A party is now out to bury McCall, and to find the body of a stranger, who left here, solitary and alone, for Prescott, from the fact that his horse was found near Union Pass by McCall the day before he was killed. The man was subsequently heard of at the Toll Gate, all right, but his horse is here.

The stage arrived yesterday morning with B. H. Coit, a passenger, who has arrived with the purpose of working his mine, the Pride of the Pines, in Waba, Yuma District. By the stage we have news that a company of cavalry will arrive at Mohave next week, whose business it will be to look to these fiends the Pah-Utes and Wallapais, and it is fair to presume that our troubles with them on the road will soon end. The stage will soon run through to Prescott, so say the mail contractors, who appear to be in earnest and active men.

MORE INDIAN OUTRAGES IN ARIZONA.—The San Bernardino Guardian, of March 23d, has the following:

It would seem that we are never to hear the last of Indian massacres in the unfortunate Territory of Arizona. These frequent massacres are really sickening, especially when, as we know, the utmost indifference with regard to them prevails at headquarters. We had enough of such experience when in that Territory. We saw clearly enough then, as did every one else who was resident there, that to the imbecility which prevailed at headquarters was chargable every life that was sacrificed by the Indians. As it was then, so it is now. Date Creek, the scene of the present massacre, was formerly a military post, but recently the troops were removed and the natural consequence follows. The facts of the present case are thus reported:

On the 1st inst. a train of wagons belonging to Mr. Ravenna, were returning from Prescott to La Paz, and when in the vicinity of Date Creek were attacked by Indians. The utmost circumspection had been observed by all the men in passing through the rocky canyons and defiles. There were seven men in the train, and at the first fire of the Indians three of them fell dead, and one was wounded in two places. The others seeing the fatality, left the scene. The Indians then rushed in and cut out the animals of one wagon, took the harness off the other team, and plundered the wagons. The train of Dr. Jones was behind some two or three miles, and Mr. Davis, though wounded, went back for assistance; he was followed by the Indians, but by firing on them he kept them at bay. On meeting the herder, who was riding ahead, he sent him back to report—when Dr. Jones, Mr. Werninger, and two other men rode after the Indians to endeavor to recover the stock. The Indians seeing them advance, came up and commenced the attack, and so numerous and well provided were the savages, that the whites were compelled to retire with the loss of three of their animals, from which their riders had dismounted during the fight. By this attack, the Indians gained no less than twenty-four animals, four guns, three pistols, and about three hundred rounds of ammunition. The bodies of the dead men were recovered, carried over the mountain about ten miles, laid in a wagon cover and buried.

THE LIMBLESS MEMBER OF PARLIAMENT.—A notice appeared a short time since in reference to Mr. Kavanagh, an Irish member of Parliament, who came into the world so incompletely made up that he is without legs and arms, and, notwithstanding, is an excellent hunter, an accomplished scholar, and a man of remarkable energy and business. The London Examiner describes his first appearance in the House of Commons when Parliament was opened. It says: "The limbless member for the county of Wexford, when he came to be sworn in, entered the House from the direction of the Speaker's private apartments, seated in a library chair that he can wheel with ease. The large copy of the Testament used in administering the oaths to members was managed—one cannot use the the word handled—by Mr. Kavanagh without the least difficulty, and he wrote his name with as much quickness and apparent ease as any of his fellow members of Parliament. The process was as follows: The Clerk handed to Mr. Kavanagh a pen with a handle of the length to which he is accustomed. The honorable gentleman clasped the handle between what represent his arms, and steadying it by putting the end into his mouth, guided the pen over the parchment with singular fluency and steadiness." Mr. Kavanagh is an excellent speaker. He is a large land-owner, and when he addresses the House, propped upright by a mechanical apparatus on an elevated chair, he is certain to excite a marked sensation. His physical defects will not prevent him taking a prominent part in the debates.

Salt Lake City, November 5, 1866.

The Russian Treaty.

Although the treaty between Russia and the United States, whereby the former power ceded to the latter all of her immese possessions on the Northwest coast of the continent, seemed to hang fire in the Senate for a few days, it has been finally ratified by that body, with certain amendments. Regarding the purchase as one highly important to our country, we were at a loss to understand for what reason the later telegrams suggested the probability of rejection by the Senate. As nearly as we can arrive at it, the original treaty provided for the payment by the United States of seven millions, but our Government assumed certain liabilities which it appears were obligatory on Russia. Knowing how easily and how rapidly claims against Government accumulate and magnify, the Senate very wisely hesitated to assume such indefinite responsibility. A short conference between the Russian Minister at Washington and Secretary Seward, however, soon made it apparent that these claims, whatever they were, only amounted to about $250,000. So the Senate, to make a clean business of it, added that sum to the price paid, and left Russia to settle with her own subjects, or others, on her own terms. There is little doubt that the Czar will concur in the amendment, and when Congress makes the appropriation of seven and a quarter millions the affair will be entirely consummated.

The country purchased is an empire in itself, extending northward from the line of 57 degrees of north latitude to the North Pole, including the islands and shores along Behring's Straits. As an agricultural region it of course possesses little value in consequence of the coldness of the climate, but it does not follow, as has been intimated, that it is therefore worthless. As a timber region alone it possesses an almost inestimable value to the whole Pacific coast, which to our commercial nation will prove invaluable. The country is said, also, to be rich in minerals—gold, silver, copper, iron and coal. The business of the Sitka Ice Company alone, which supplies San Francisco and almost the entire coast with that necessary article of comfort, has grown to be of great importance in itself. But aside from a mere dollar and cent view, which we admit, in this utilitarian age is usually pre-eminent, this purchase derives much of its importance in a political and international sense. That this is so is evident from the fact that on hearing of it, Sir Frederick Bruce, the British Minister, became no little excited, and immediately telegraphed Lord Derby for instructions authorizing him to protest against its consummation. Whether or not those instructions have yet come, we have not been apprised, but from the unanimity with which the Senate ratified the treaty—there being only five dissenting votes—we suspect Sir Frederick will deem it prudent to bury his instructions in the recesses of his capacious diplomatic pockets, when they do arrive.

As usual in Washington, the seeming hesitation of the Senate to ratify the treaty gave rise to all sorts of rumors, which newspaper correspondents made the most of, evidently for political effect. The Washington correspondent of the Chicago Republican dishes up some of them in the following spicy style, under date of March 31st:

When the treaty with Russia was read to the Senate in Executive Session yesterday, it created a general smile and, in some instances, ridicule. No vote was taken. Nearly all the Senators are reported as considering it a farce. It goes over to the extra session to-morrow. There does not seem the slightest prospect that it will be ratified by the Senate. Its consideration in the Senate will lead to a spicy debate. Senators are unable to learn wherein the value of the Territory exists, or who desires to pay money for such a purpose. It is said an Investigating Committee will be appointed to ascertain the origin of the scheme and what there is behind it. Nobody believes the whole $7,000,000 will go out of the Washington coffers.

Laying entirely aside the fact that the Executive Sessions of the Senate are held with closed doors and its proceedings, especially when considering important treaties, under the most solemn pledges and requirements of secrecy, the almost unanimous ratification subsequently, shows how decidedly this correspondent drew upon his very fertile imagination.

But the important treaty has been consummated, and it unquestionably reflects great credit on the Secretary of State. It is rare, indeed, that such important negotiations can be carried on in the diplomatic world without some inkling of them obtaining notoriety. But this treaty, full and complete, burst upon the public and the foreign Ministers at Washington like a clap of thunder out of summer sky. The thing was done before the tricks and wire-working of others could interpose to prevent it or throw obstacles in the way. It is evidently a very long plume in Mr. Seward's diplomatic cap.

ONE INDIAN KILLS FOUR WHITE MEN.—The following dispatches appear in the Sacramento Union of the 5th inst:

Weaverville, April 4.

R. L. Thomas has just arrived from Lower Trinity, bringing intelligence that on Sunday morning, March 31st, Robert L. Stockton (Indian agent at Hoopa Valley), James Latham, William Griffin and Isaac Stover were killed two miles above Willow creek by an Indian known as Frank, a desperate character, who had left the Reservation. The four men were killed while attempting to arrest him. Stockton is a brother-in-law of Senator Conness. The above intelligence is furnished the Trinity Journal by Edward Bontecon, of Lower Trinity.

Portland, Oregon, April 4.

Reports from the mines called the Forty-nine, near the mouth of the Kootenai, are very favorable and mining operations commenced. Two ounces of gold to the pan have been taken out.

[SPECIAL TO THE "DAILY UNION VEDETTE."]

Washington, April 11.

The President will to-morrow send to the Senate the documents relating to the proposed interposition of this Government in behalf of Maximilian, should he fall into the hands of the Liberals.

The Senate to-day confirmed Rousseau as Brigadier General.

Several members of the Cabinet had an interview with the President to-day, but no other visitors were admitted.

The Senate has ratified the treaty recently made with the Chippewas and bands of Mississippi Indians now residing in Minnesota.

The hearing of the De Haro land case was concluded in the Supreme Court to-day.

Madison, April 11.

The Wisconsin Legislature has passed a resolution in favor of amending the Constitution so as to give women the right of suffrage.

Washington, April 11.

It is understood that the Senate, in Executive session to-day, refused to allow the debate on the Russian-American treaty to be published. Several Senators, it is said, read speeches. The vote against publication was about the same as that in favor of the treaty.

New York, April 12.

The Committee appointed by the delegates of the anti-Tammany Hall organization in this city, who were refused admission to the State Convention at Albany last Wednesday, met last evening to consider the action to be taken to secure a proper representation of anti-Tammany delegates in the coming State Convention. A resolution was adopted expressing the determination of the party to oppose all candidates nominated by the Tammany "Ring," and to reject all proffers of compromise or affiliation with that organization. Meetings of Conventions in the various Senatorial districts were appointed to be holden on Monday evening next.

New York, April 12.

The latest Vera Cruz dates are of the 22d ult.

A disagreement had occurred between the Imperial Commissioner and Gomez, owing to which the latter threw up his commission and abandoned the cause. This disagreement was supposed also to extend to other officers, who were expected to follow Gomez' example. Gomez was at the time of his resignation Commander of the Imperial forces in Vera Cruz.

Reports from the interior are conflicting. The story of Escobedo's defeat was supposed to have been manufactured in order to inspire the troops in Vera Cruz. Puebla was reported captured by the Liberals.

New York, April 12.

The Times' special says that Samuel Adams of Arizona is now in Washington on a mission to induce Government to send a surveying party to explore the Colorado river, which is navigable from where the Pacific Railroad crosses it to the Gulf of California—1,400 miles.

The Times' special says it is the intention of Governors Sharkey, of Mississippi, and Jenkins, of Georgia, to have the motions in their respective injunction cases argued together before the Supreme Court to-day.

The Herald's Richmond, Va., special says that notwithstanding the order of General Schofield disbanding all military organizations, there is now in that city an armed force known as the Public Guard which was organized by the present General Assembly, which made an appropriation of $40,000 for their expenses. Their duty at present amounts to nothing more than to guard the Penitentiary, which can easily be performed by the military without any tax on the impoverished people. On the arrival of some expected troops this Guard will be relieved.

The Herald's Vera Cruz correspondence of March 30th says the city is so well defended by its walls and the forts so mounted with heavy guns that it is impossible for the Liberals to take it by assault. Success might have been met with during the first twenty-four hours after the French left, but the troops are now gaining confidence in their quarters, and it is impossible to tell how long the siege will last.

New York, April 12.

Three clerks in this city were injured this morning by an explosion of gas; one fatally.

Washington, April 12.

The Supreme Court room was densely crowded to-day. All the Judges were present. The Mississippi injunction case came before the Court on a motion to file the bill of complaint. Attorney General Stanbery made a lengthy argument in opposition, denying the original jurisdiction of the Court. Robert J. Walker, in its support, concluded the argument.

Charles O'Connor moved for leave to file the bill in the Georgia case.

Chief Justice Chase said the Court would take the motions under advisement, and if further argument was desired counsel would be notified.

New York, April 12.

Money easy; gold little affected by the warlike news from Europe. Napoleon's reply to Bismarck is awaited with interest. Market closed weak. Steamship shares are advancing heavily. Pacific Mail opened at 124½ and advanced to 128¼; Atlantic, 84½.

Twenty casks of gin have been smuggled by the ship Aristides, from Bremen, part of which has been seized. The ship is liable to confiscation.

In anticipation of serious trouble in the mining regions of Morris county, N. J., Governor Ward has issued orders to General Runyon of the State Rifle Corps to hold two companies of the corps in Newark in readiness to march at short notice to the mining region, in order that any riots that may occur through the agency of the miners may be speedily quelled.

Washington, April 12.

In the Senate, the President submitted a communication from the Governor of Massachusetts transmitting an attested copy of a resolution of that Commonwealth ratifying the proposed amendment to the 4th Article of the Constitution of the United States. Laid on the table, and ordered printed.

The Senate resumed the consideration of the adjournment question, and debated it until 4 o'clock, the arguments presenting very much the same points as heretofore made. Finally the Senate refused to postpone the consideration of the resolution until to-morrow by a vote of 14 to 17. Stewart, of Nev., then moved an amendment fixing Tuesday next, at 4 P. M., as the time of adjournment sine die, which was adopted by yeas, 26; nays, 11.

At 4 o'clock the Senate went into Executive session.

Boston, April 12.

The authorities of Nebraska having submitted to the Interior Department the question whether the lands granted to the State under the enabling act of April 19th, 1864, should be deducted from lands granted under the Act of 1841, granting each new State half a million acres for internal improvements, the Secretary of the Interior has decided that the grant of 1864 should not be deducted, but the State entitled to the full quantity under each Act.

Chicago, April 12.

Keene & Co.'s bookstore was destroyed by fire last night. Loss, $125,000; insured, $50,000. Binz & Laperel's brewery was burned yesterday afternoon. Loss, $75,000; insured, $40,000.

New York, April 13.

Secretary Seward has issued a circular letter to Consular Agents and Ministers of the United States stationed at ports likely to be visited by General Sherman's expedition to Holy Land, commending the General and party to their consideration, and intimating that any attention paid them by foreign States will be gratefully appreciated by this Government. The Secretary of the Navy has given orders to supply the Quaker City, the vessel in which the party sails, with artillery and flags to be used in saluting.

New York, April 13.

The Herald's Matamoras correspondence contains news from the vicinity of Queretaro up to March 22d. No doubt existed that the last engagement resulted in an Imperial defeat. The fighting was very stubborn, and the losses were admitted by Escobedo to have been very great on both sides. The Imperial chiefs had issued a proclamation offering $10 to any soldier who would join them with his arms, and $5 to any one who would join them without arms. It was intended as a bait for deserters from the Liberals. The commander at Matamoras has again requested a loan from the merchants of that city, the amount desired being $30,000.

Advices from the west coast of Africa, dated Sierra Leone, February 15th, report that the natives were giving trouble again to the English in Gambia.

The Herald's Charleston, S. C., special says the firm of Frazier, Trenholm & Co., of Charleston, and La Fetle, their agent at Nassau during the war, have been notified to appear before the Judiciary Committee, at Washington, to give testimony relative their business of blockade running, and the assets of their firm remaining at the close of the war.

The Times' special says that Judge George C. Hough, of Idaho, and General Winters are rival candidates for the Governorship of Washington Territory, with the chances in favor of the former. It has been proposed to make a new Territory out of portions of Washington and Idaho, but the project is abandoned for the present, and the parties representing Washington interests have united on Judge Hough for the Governorship.

The President's health is reported much improved to-day. Hon. Thad. Stevens and Hon. W. E. Chandler, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, both of whom have been quite sick, are much better.

The Tribune's special says a large number of appointments were agreed upon in the Cabinet meeting yesterday, but were not made out in time to send to the Senate. There will be communicated to the Senate to-morrow not more than twenty-five vacant Post-offices to be filled, and not more than twenty or thirty Collectors and Assessors of Internal Revenue to be appointed. All of the above appointments can be disposed of before Tuesday next. Several Union Senators stated to-day that they should vote to confirm any and all good men that the President nominated for Collectors of Customs and other offices of the revenue, without regard to politics.

Washington, April 13.

The vote on the nomination of Gen. Kirby Smith as Consul at Panama was reconsidered yesterday, but the matter not finally disposed of. The only reason assigned for the reconsideration of Smith's nomination is that the Senators from the Pacific Slope claim that the appointment belongs to that section.

The Tribune's special says that as several interpretations have been given to the opinions of Solicitor Jordan on the Civil Tenure of Office bill, he has made inquiry and finds the following to be the correct version: The Secretary of the Treasury having on several occasions asked the opinion of the Solicitor on certain appointments made under the Civil Tenure of Office bill, three decisions were rendered by the Solicitor. The first decision was, that in cases where a vacancy in office occurred previous to the date of the tenure of office law, no such vacancy should be filled under the old law. Second—Where vacancies under the tenure of office law occur in a Collectorship or Assessorship, and where the Senate fail to confirm a nominee, it shall be the duty of the Secretary of the Treasury to fill the office promptly by the appointment of a Deputy Collector, or Assessor, as the case may be, although the law does not provide for such action. Third—The Secretary has power at will to remove such Deputy and appoint another Deputy until a Collector or Assessor shall be nominated and confirmed. The opinions received the approval of Attorney General Stanbery when made.

A BEAUTIFUL EXTRACT.—It was night, Jerusalem slept as quietly amid her hills as a child upon its mother's breast. The noiseless sentinel stood like a statue at his post, and the philosopher's lamp burned dimly in the recesses of his chamber. But a moral darkness involved the nation in its enlightened shadows. Reason shed a faint glimmering in the minds of men, like the cold and insufficient shining of a distant star. The immortality of man's spiritual nature was unknown, his relations unto heaven undiscovered, and his future destiny obscured in a cloud of mystery. It was at this period that two forms of ethereal mould hovered about the land of God's chosen people. They seemed like sister angels, sent to earth on some embassy of love. The one of majestic statue and well-formed limb, which her snowy drapery hardly concealed, in her erect bearing and steady eye, exhibited the highest of strength and confidence. Her right arm was extended in an impressive gesture upward where night appeared to have placed her darkest pavilion, while on the left reclined her delicate companion, in form and countenance the contrast of the other, drooping like a flower moistened by refreshing dews, and her bright but troubled eyes scanned them with ardent glances. Suddenly a light like the sun flashed out from the heavens, and Faith and Hope hailed with exulting songs the ascending stars of Bethlehem. Years rolled away, and the stranger was seen in Jerusalem. He was a meek, unassuming man, whose happiness seemed to consist in acts of benevolence to the human race. There was deep traces of sorrow on his countenance, though no one knew why he grieved, for he lived in the practice of every virtue, and was loved by all the good and wise. By-and-by it was rumored that the stranger worked miracles, that the blind saw, that the dumb spoke, the dead arose, the ocean moderated its chafing tide, the very thunders articulated. He is the Son of God! Envy assailed him to death. Slowly and thickly guarded, he ascended the hill of Calvary. A heavy cross bent on his arm, and Hope, dipping the pinions in his blood, mounted to the skies.

"Mack," of the Cincinnati Commercial, describes General Grant as he appeared at a recent full dress ball:

Late in the evening General Grant and his lady arrived. Ulysses was immediately assailed by a young lady, and hauled, rather than escorted, into the dancing room, where he was immediately mustered for a quadrille. He was in full dress—citizen, not military—and looked exceedingly odd to those who had not before seen him but in uniform. He seemed to me much smaller and narrower shouldered than he had ever before appeared. It may be because of the record that is inseparable from his name that many see under his military coat so great a resemblance to the great soldiers who have lived before him. But in dressing for a party he certainly spoils a good soldier to make a very indifferent looking beau, whom, I take it, the ladies would be slow to fall the least in love with.

His fair partner pushed him through the dance with moderate success. He don't seem to like it a bit. He was embarrassed at the call of every figure, and could't for his life get a fair start at right and left all round. His right hand instinctively went where the left was called for, and vice versa. He seems to have a great fear of treading on the ladies dresses. This fear is not peculiar to the General. It pervades the minds of many gentlemen on such occasions. For my part I unhesitatingly affirm that the most delightful sound to be heard in a ball room is the ravishing r-r-r-ip, that tells of a dislocated skirt. 'Tis music in the sinner's ear, far more enchanting than can be got out of voice or instrument. What else is a long trailing silk but a standing invitation for the delicious embarrassing scene that follows a good square tramp? If gentlemen won't take the hint, its because they are too dull; but surely the ladies would not wear such streaming costumes if they did not want them torn occasionally.

This Company having greatly enlarged their Refining Works, and introduced many other important improvements, are pleased to announce that they feel warranted in again reducing materially their terms of doing business.

The Tariff of Charges

Which they now submit to the public—considered with reference to the cost of material and labor—is lower than in any other part of the world, and secures to the mining interest of this coast an important increase in both the minting and commercial value of bullion.

Their charges hereafter will be as follows:

For Assaying Deposits for Unparted Gold Bars.

One-eighth of one per cent. (heretofore a quarter) for all amounts over $1,600, and two dollars for any smaller sum. Returns made in twenty-four hours.

For Assaying Deposits for Unparted Silver Bars.

Two dollars for the gold contained, up to $1,600, and one-eighth of one per cent. for all amounts over that sum, and one per cent. on the silver contained. Returns made in twenty-four hours.

For Refining Deposits made for Coin or Fine Bars.

On bullion under 300 parts gold, 2 cents per ounce.

On bullion from 300¼@600 parts gold, 4 cents per ounce.

On bullion from 600¼@750 parts gold, 6 cents per ounce.

On bullion from 750¼@949¼ parts gold, 8 cents per ounce.

Above 950 the only charge will be for coinage. But there will be no charge for refining less than two dollars.

For Coining Gold.

This charge will be the same as at the Mint—a half of one per cent.—and which is paid by us to that institution. But there will be no charge in future for making fine gold or silver bars from bullion refined by us.

Returns in Coin Made in Forty-Eight Hours.

Silver contained in deposits for coin will be accounted for at the same rate customary at the Mint.

Gold bars of other Assayers in good standing, will be cashed by us at the highest market rates.

Dust and bullion can be forwarded to us from any part of the country, and returns made through Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express.

Charges at U. S. Branch Mint.

For the convenience of those not familiar with the terms of the Mint, we subjoin the tariff of charges now in force at that Institution:

For refining bullion under 300 parts gold, 3 cents per ounce.

For refining bullion from 300¼@600 parts gold, 5 cents per ounce.

For refining bullion from 600¼@750 parts gold, 7 cents per ounce.

For refining bullion from 750¼@830 parts gold, 11 cents per ounce.

For refining bullion from 830¼@949¼ parts gold, 14 cents per ounce.

The charge for coinage is half of one per cent., and the charge for making fine silver bars, the same.

Comparing the net value of deposits for coinage, with the proceeds of unparted gold bars sold in the market—assuming that the bars have cost ¼ of one per cent.—they must be sold at the following par rates to equal the return which would have been made had they been deposited for coinage:

880 par to equal Mint return, at refining charge of 14 cents.

845 par to equal Mint return, at refining charge of 11 cents.

865 par to equal San Francisco A. & R. Works return, at refining charge of 8 cents. [mr21-3m-ly

The Daily Union Vedette

TO ADVERTISERS.—The VEDETTE is the pioneer daily newspaper of Utah. Its extensive circulation in every mining camp and city of Montana and Idaho, to which it gives the telegraphic despatches a whole week ahead of the Pacific papers,) makes it the most advantageous medium for advertising in these four central Territories.

Local and Miscellaneous.

THE DENVER HOMICIDE.—From private dispatches received in this city on Saturday last, we learn that W. Hammer, the messenger of Wells, Fargo & Co. between here and Denver, was killed in Denver on the afternoon of the 12th inst., by Paul Coburn, formerly a Division Agent of Holladay & Co. The circumstances as stated in the dispatches are as follows: Hammer and Coburn were playing billiards in the same room, but at different tables. Some one had informed Coburn that Hammer had said he (Coburn) was a Montana Vigilante. When Coburn had finished his game he deliberately walked to where Hammer was, and without exchanging a word of altercation struck Hammer on the back of the neck with the butt of a billiard cue, breaking his neck and killing him instantly. Coburn was arrested and is now in jail.

Both of these men are well known in this city. Mr. Hammer has a brother residing here, and Coburn's connection with the hanging of two men on Snake river has given him somewhat of an unenviable notoriety.

A late dispatch says that at the Coroner's inquest no one appeared who could swear to their having seen the blow struck; Coburn's friends having kept themselves away to avoid testifying. It is said that considerable excitement exists in Denver, and that the jail was surrounded by a mob who demanded the person of Coburn. Mr. Hammer was about twenty-four or five years of age, and much esteemed by those who knew him.

A dispatch received late yesterday says that notwithstanding the billiard saloon was crowded, the blow was given so suddenly that no one could testify who gave it, and Coburn by an effort to escape, drew the attention of the crowd, and was arrested for the act. The verdict of the Coroner's jury was, that the death of Hammer was caused by a blow from a billiard cue in the hands of some person unknown to them.

THE PRIZE FIGHT.—The prize fight between Chandler and Harris, which was to have taken place on the 11th, has been postponed in consequence of the interference by the authorities of San Francisco. Great preparations had been made, and thousands were in attendance. A large amount of money is involved in the issue. Bennett, of the Herald, we are told, has staked considerable on the result.

ANOTHER INVENTION.—Dr. Griswold, who has just arrived from Montana and leaves for the East to-day, takes with him a new invention of whiffletrees, for which he intends to apply for a patent. It is said to combine many advantages over the old style, and has met with the approval of all the drivers on the routes where it has been used. It is the invention of Messrs. Griswold, Cramer & Blay, of Helena.

Coal and Wood at the Pioneer Yard, east of Emigration Square, of the very best quality. Coal at $25 per ton, and $1.75 per cwt. Wood at your own price. San Pete Coal, $40 per ton. Leave your orders at Ross & Barratt's store. 2t

CIRCUS.—The grand gift performance, postponed from Friday, comes off this evening. It comprises 100 prizes, including a sewing machine valued at $75. Tickets, $1 and $1.25. can be had at the box-office during the day. Doors open at 7 o'clock.

PERSONAL.—General D. E. Buel, an old citizen of California, but now a Nevadan and Commissioner from that State to the Paris Exposition, left yesterday for the East. The General looks taller, handsomer and younger than when we saw him last.

Arrivals and Departures.

BY WELLS, FARGO & CO.'S STAGES.

From the West—April 13—Gen. D. E. Buel, Rev. J. B. Pinney, W. S. Keyes, Geo. F. Stodder.

From the North—April 13—J. E. Martin, Dr. E. Griswold.

To the East—April 14—Gen. D. E Buel, Geo. F. Stodder, J. E. Martin, John Devine, L. A. Raymond.

To the North—April 14—W. S. Keyes, Geo. Word, Mary Shuster.

A SCHOOL-HOUSE STOLEN.—The San Jose Mecury learns from a gentleman residing at Milpitas that on Monday, March 18th, the school-house situated in the south end of the Calaveras Valley, was feloniously nipped and carried away. Only a few of the south end people were at home during the time the raid took place, and their protestations were unavailing. The joke of the thing is, says the Mercury, the parties engaged in the theft are all "Constitutional Democrats." Now, if we had been told that they had stolen a red-hot stove, a saw-mill, or a distillery, the circumstances would have excited no special wonder; but to steal a school-house! What on earth does a Democrat want of a school-house.

"A BIT OF DECENT FIGHTING."—A gentleman, who was an eye witness, relates that some Irish peasants belonging to hostile factions, met under peculiar circumstances. There were, however, two on one side, and four on the other, and therefore, there was to be no fight. But, in order to balance the number, one of the more numerous party joined the other side, "bekase, boys," he said, "it would be a burnin' shame, so it would, for four to kick two; and except I join them, by the powers, there's no chance of there being a bit of a sport or a row, at all at all!" The result was, that he and his new friends were victorious; so honestly did they fight!

AN IDEA IN BUTTONS.—Among the new inventions is a button which is fastened to the cloth without thread. It consists solely of a button with a wire to be inserted into the cloth like a corkscrew, and then pressed down flat, so as to form a ring to hold the button in its place. As this invention will enable men to keep the buttons on their shirts, it is calculated to do away with wives altogether.

THAT CRAZY MAN.—A plaster had a bright who always stood opposite to him when waiting at table. His master often took the name of God in vain, at which the negro immediately made a low and solemn bow. On being asked why he did so he replied that he never heard that great name mentioned, but it filled his soul with awe. Thus he quaed his master without offending him.

A TRUE MASON.—He is not a Freemason who stands with folded arms, saying, "Temples can't be built without me!" and he is not a Freemason whose heart is too narrow to be, so to speak, the perpetual seat of those pilgrims of heaven—love, forgiveness, charity. But he is a Mason, who, without pharisaic ostentation, bows down his soul to the Great Architect; who with mallet or pen, in the field or on the seas, in the counting-house or in the workshop, in the castle or cottage, fulfills the mission confided to him, the chosen man, of laboring for the unceasing welfare and progress of humanity. He, in fine, is a Mason whose device is "Intelligence, faithfulness, kindliness."

IN TIME.—A schoolmaster not many miles from the Common was whittling a stick, one day last week, and accidentally cut his finger, which brought out the exclamation "God!" Instantly, having several boys near him, he added—"save the Commonwealth of Massachusetts."

HARD HEARTED.—The editor of an Eastern paper, a cross old bachelor, says: "The reason why women do not cut themselves in two by tight lacing is because they lace around the heart, and that is so hard they cannot affect it."

SEVERE REPORT.—"You would be very pretty, indeed," said a gentleman, patronizingly, to a young lady, "if your eyes were only a little larger." "My eyes may be very small, sir, but such people as you don't fill them."

SINGULAR COINCIDENCES.—A French journal says: "A remarkable and perhaps almost unrivalled coincidence is recorded in the civil registry of Bar-sur-Aube. In 1866 there were inscribed there 106 births, 106 deaths, and 106 marriages.

ANKER'S

ONE-PRICE CLOTHING STORE,

F Street,

SIGN OF THE GILT ANCHOR!

DENVER, COLORADO,

Is not the "Largest," but the MOST ELEGANT CLOTHING HOUSE in Colorado.

And from the East and to the West,
Are gentlemen dressed
In suits from Anker's Hall;
And none, as yet, was heard to regret
That he ever gave him a call.
He honestly deals,
And nothing conceals,
Regarding the wear of his clothes,
But speaks with the truth,
To man and to youth,
Which each of his customers knows.
Hence, friends, one and all,
Go to Anker's Hall,
Walk boldly—don't cowardly creep.
For there you'll find,
All obliging and kind,
With Clothing tremendously cheap.

The citizens of Utah, Idaho and Montana are at all times cordially invited to call at ANCHOR'S POPULAR CLOTHING HOUSE, when in Denver, and examine his most Elegant and Tasteful Stock of Goods, which will be sold at Prices Guaranteed Lower than the Lowest.
